

Venture Analyst Job Description

The candidate will work closely with the Innovation Manager & Innovation Director to locate potential Innovation Partners, negotiate win-win deals with those partners and accelerate the commercialization of the co-developed solutions. This person will also assist in performing due diligence on potential partners, conducting market analysis, writing business cases, developing applicable financial models, and creating presentations.

The ideal candidate would be a high-energy self-starter who is excited by learning about new innovations in the healthcare market, researching new markets, new companies, and creating/executing plans to co-develop innovative solutions and maximize revenue potential for the Innovation Partners.

Specific duties will include:

- Managing social media marketing for Innovation Partners and CHV
- Performing market research to identify companies developing innovative solutions in relevant markets
- Creating business cases, financial models, and applicable presentations
- Identifying issues that arise from either party engaged in the Innovation Partnership
- Serving as an internal entrepreneurial resource to evaluate potential innovation opportunities within the organization
- Assisting Venture Managers and Venture Directors, as required

Desired Experience/Qualifications/Skills

Experience in and interest in entrepreneurial studies or endeavors

B.S or B.A degree

Experience with financial modeling and business plan creation

Excellent interpersonal skills

Experience with basic graphic design and developing marketing collateral